

SAMPLE TITLE PAGE AND ABSTRACT

Please Note: E-mail Title Page and Abstract to dmsphdefense@hms.harvard.edu three weeks or earlier before the date of your defense in one word document

- ❖ Once your Title Page/Abstract is submitted, please do NOT change the title. This becomes the official title of your dissertation, and appears on all official documents for graduation. Failure to comply can result in delayed graduation and fines.
- ❖ The month on your title page must be the month in which you defend, not the month you will receive your degree
- ❖ Your abstract should be numbered using Roman numerals (iii, iv, v, ...). The title page and the copyright page should be counted but not numbered. The first printed page number should appear on the Abstract page.
- ❖ Please see Page 15-16 in the “Form of the PhD Dissertation” to see the exact expectations for the abstract and title page

SAMPLE

Investigation of the Roles of the KSHV Latency Associated Nuclear Antigen Internal Regions in Episome Persistence

A dissertation presented by

John Smith

to

The Division of Medical Sciences

in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of

Doctor of Philosophy

in the subject of

Biological Chemistry and Molecular Pharmacology

(Please be sure to use your specific subject of degree)

Harvard University

Cambridge, Massachusetts

April 2011

(Be sure to use the month and year you are defending)

Dissertation Advisor: Dr. Roy Rodgers

John Smith

Investigation of the Roles of the KSHV Latency Associated Nuclear Antigen Internal Regions in Episome Persistence

Abstract